

Abstract

“Elegance Beauty” is an web application that provide a platform that help the homemakers to sell their handmade jewellers. This application would be benefitable for many women to utilize their ability and help to earn as an entrepreneur. Thus it provide a large variety of collection of jewellers where customer can purchase product that gives them high satisfaction.

Here, admin overall manage the site and also gets a part of the price as his earning. Also notifications can be send to homemakers and customer on the special season sales. This site would help women to earn money by their own. They can register and use the site a platform to sell their product or jewellers and developing their own business. The customer can choose a variety of product of product and track the transfer status of products. They can view the homemakers details and can rate and send feedback.

The system mainly consists of 4 users:

- Admin
- Homemaker
- Customer

The benefit of this site is that the customer can track the produt transaction and it could provide custom paging facilities that help them to get the products similar to what they are searching with providing a wide choices.